

Episode 128: Guest bio

Episode name: Balancing the Books: Exploring the Role of a Liquidator in Adjudicating Proofs of Debt

Guest(s): Nik Angelakis

NIK ANGELAKIS

Senior Associate, Mills Oakley

Nik Angelakis is a Senior Associate in the Commercial Disputes and Insolvency team at Mills Oakley, Melbourne, and his practice includes litigious and non-litigious insolvency work. He regularly acts for insolvency practitioners, company officers, and creditors, on various technical issues.

He holds Bachelors of Law and Commerce (Accounting) degrees from the University of Adelaide and a Masters of Law from the University of Melbourne. He completed his Minor Thesis on the adjudication of proofs of debt in corporate insolvency, which has been published over three articles in the Insolvency Law Journal.

Nik has received recognition in the industry as the 2021 recipient of the Baxt Prize from the Law Council of Australia, and as a Commercial Litigation & Insolvency Law Rising Star in the 2022 Doyle's Guide listing.

DAVID TURNER

Host

David Turner has a gift for teasing out people's stories, so it's no wonder he is Hearsay's host. With a double Bachelor of Arts and Laws from Macquarie University, he is also an MBA candidate at UNSW's Australian Graduate School of Management.

When he isn't interviewing people on Hearsay, David is a lawyer at Assured Legal Solutions, a boutique financial services law firm located in Sydney's CBD. Prior to joining Assured, he was called to the NSW Bar, and is a former President of NSW Young Lawyers and a former Councillor of the Law Society of NSW.

David spends the little downtime that he has left reading historical fiction and tinkering on home improvement projects.

You can access David's bio on the Assured Legal Solutions website here.
