

Episode 81: Guest bios

Episode name: Will They or Won't They: Combating Ambiguity in Wills

Guest(s): Anne Brown

ANNE BROWN

Principal, Marriott Oliver

Anne was admitted as a solicitor in 2006 after graduating from the University of Wollongong. She commenced working in Nowra in 2007 after working in Sydney for a short period in a litigation firm. Anne's practice area encompasses wills, estate planning, probate and estate administration and estate litigation. Anne is community minded and contributes to many pro-bono activities.

Anne's sound legal understanding is backed by solid academic credentials and commitment to excellence. She works closely with clients to produce solid legal results which support their wider goals.

Anne aims to become an accredited specialist in wills and estates in the near future. She relishes working with clients to achieve their estate planning goals. Anne particularly enjoys assisting clients through the probate and administration process when clients lose a loved one. She has a strong client focus and works to achieve cost-effective results.

Anne's practice encompasses:

- wills, power of attorney and enduring guardian documents
- probate and letters of administration
- estate administration
- estate disputes
- elder law

Anne is community minded and contributes to many pro-bono activities and community initiatives. She participates in free Wills days and is involved in pro-bono work for the Cancer Council.

Anne qualified in law after teaching primary school for seven years. She commenced working in Nowra after a short period with a Sydney insurance litigation firm. She enjoys assisting clients through their legal challenges and spending time with her family.

DAVID TURNER

Host

David Turner has a gift for teasing out people's stories, so it's no wonder he is Hearsay's host. With a double Bachelor of Arts and Laws from Macquarie University, he is also an MBA candidate at UNSW's Australian Graduate School of Management.

When he isn't interviewing people on Hearsay, David is a lawyer at Assured Legal Solutions, a boutique financial services law firm located in Sydney's CBD. Prior to joining Assured, he was called to the NSW Bar, and is a former President of NSW Young Lawyers and a former Councillor of the Law Society of NSW.

David spends the little downtime that he has left reading historical fiction and tinkering on home improvement projects.

You can access David's bio on the Assured Legal Solutions website here.